

PCL Programmer (m/f/x) special machine engineering

Stuttgart

Reference Number: 4647

Your tasks

- As a PCL Programmer (m/f/x) you create and optimize control software and machine controls in special machine engineering
- For this you will program the systems on the basis of various control systems
- In addition, you will be responsible for the installation of machines and systems construction and take over the first start-up and recommissioning
- You will also plan and carry out reconstruction and relocation projects
- Finally, you write the associated documentation and reports

Your profil

- You have a degree in electrical engineering, automation technology or a comparable degree
- You have experience in PCL Programming, especially in special machine engineering
- For this we require knowledge of Backhoff, TwinCAT2 and TwinCAT3
- Very good knowledge of English as well as a high motivations to travel complete your profile

Our benefits

- flat hierarchies
- modern IT equipment and office equipment
- individual training opportunities through the digital learning platform "ALLEN Trainings Center"
- Company pension schemes and supplementary health insurance
- Travel expenses and tax advisory allowance
- Special leave for extraordinary events
- exclusive employee discounts
- free drinks at our locations
- Corporate events such as summer party and Christmas party

Are you looking for interesting tasks and a permanent contract? Then apply now using our online application form.

Your contact person

ALTEN GmbH / ALTEN SW GmbH
Carina KURZMEIER
+49 89 255522 50
karriere@alten.com

Created: 30.11.2021,